

Hands-On Training to Improve Your Building

The NYC Retrofit Accelerator's hands-on trainings for building staff can help you make informed decisions about how to operate your building efficiently, reduce costs, and increase resident comfort. You'll learn how to:

- Diagnose energy and water efficiency challenges
- Implement no- to low-cost energy solutions on your own
- Schedule and prioritize your projects
- Find funding and incentives to help pay for projects

The NYC Retrofit Accelerator

offers free, personalized advisory services that streamline the process of making energy efficiency improvements to your building.

Courses

All classes are taught in an interactive, hands-on format. Classes meet at Solar One Lab, 29–76 Northern Blvd., Long Island City (Queens) from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.. To register, visit NYCRetrofitTraining.eventbrite.com.

Heating and Air Sealing

June 7 and 8 (2 days)

Registration Fee: $50

How to test, repair, install, and troubleshoot a variety of heating-related equipment and seal common air leaks.

Water Conservation and Plumbing June 14 (1 day)

Registration Fee: $25

How to repair water leaks, install water-conserving technologies, and assess energy and cost savings.

Energy Efficiency Electrical June 15 (1 day)

Registration Fee: $25

How to conduct lighting audits, perform basic retrofits, find efficient electrical appliances, and install control devices.

Due to limited class size, only two staff members per building permitted in a class. All participants must agree to undertake at least one efficiency measure (diagnostic and/or repair) for their building within four months of the training session.

On-Site Training for Building Staff

The NYC Retrofit Accelerator also provides free on-site training opportunities for groups or clusters of buildings. Each training includes a two-three hour building walking tour and highlights simple opportunities to save energy. You'll be able to ask about specific issues and systems in your building. Building superintendents, property managers, and other building staff are all encouraged to attend.
